Javier Ginestar

SINCE 1983

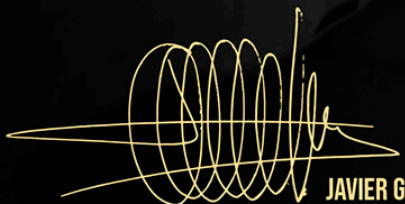

The textile world, and especially fashion, has always been the axis of my life, a life of intense vocation, inherited with the compilation of experiences from four generations ago.

This intense vocation has absorbed me to the point of marking my way of living and the perception of life itself.

It is very satisfying to find your ideal space by means of creation, to share each moment with the wonderful team of people and to achieve your own goal surpassing the foreseen expectations.

Day after day, we fight against confusing affirmations, interested lessons that mislead us, taboos that want to convince us that comfort and elegance are at odds. Absolutely false! It is more... conjugating each value correctly, surprising results can be obtained.... totally captivating.

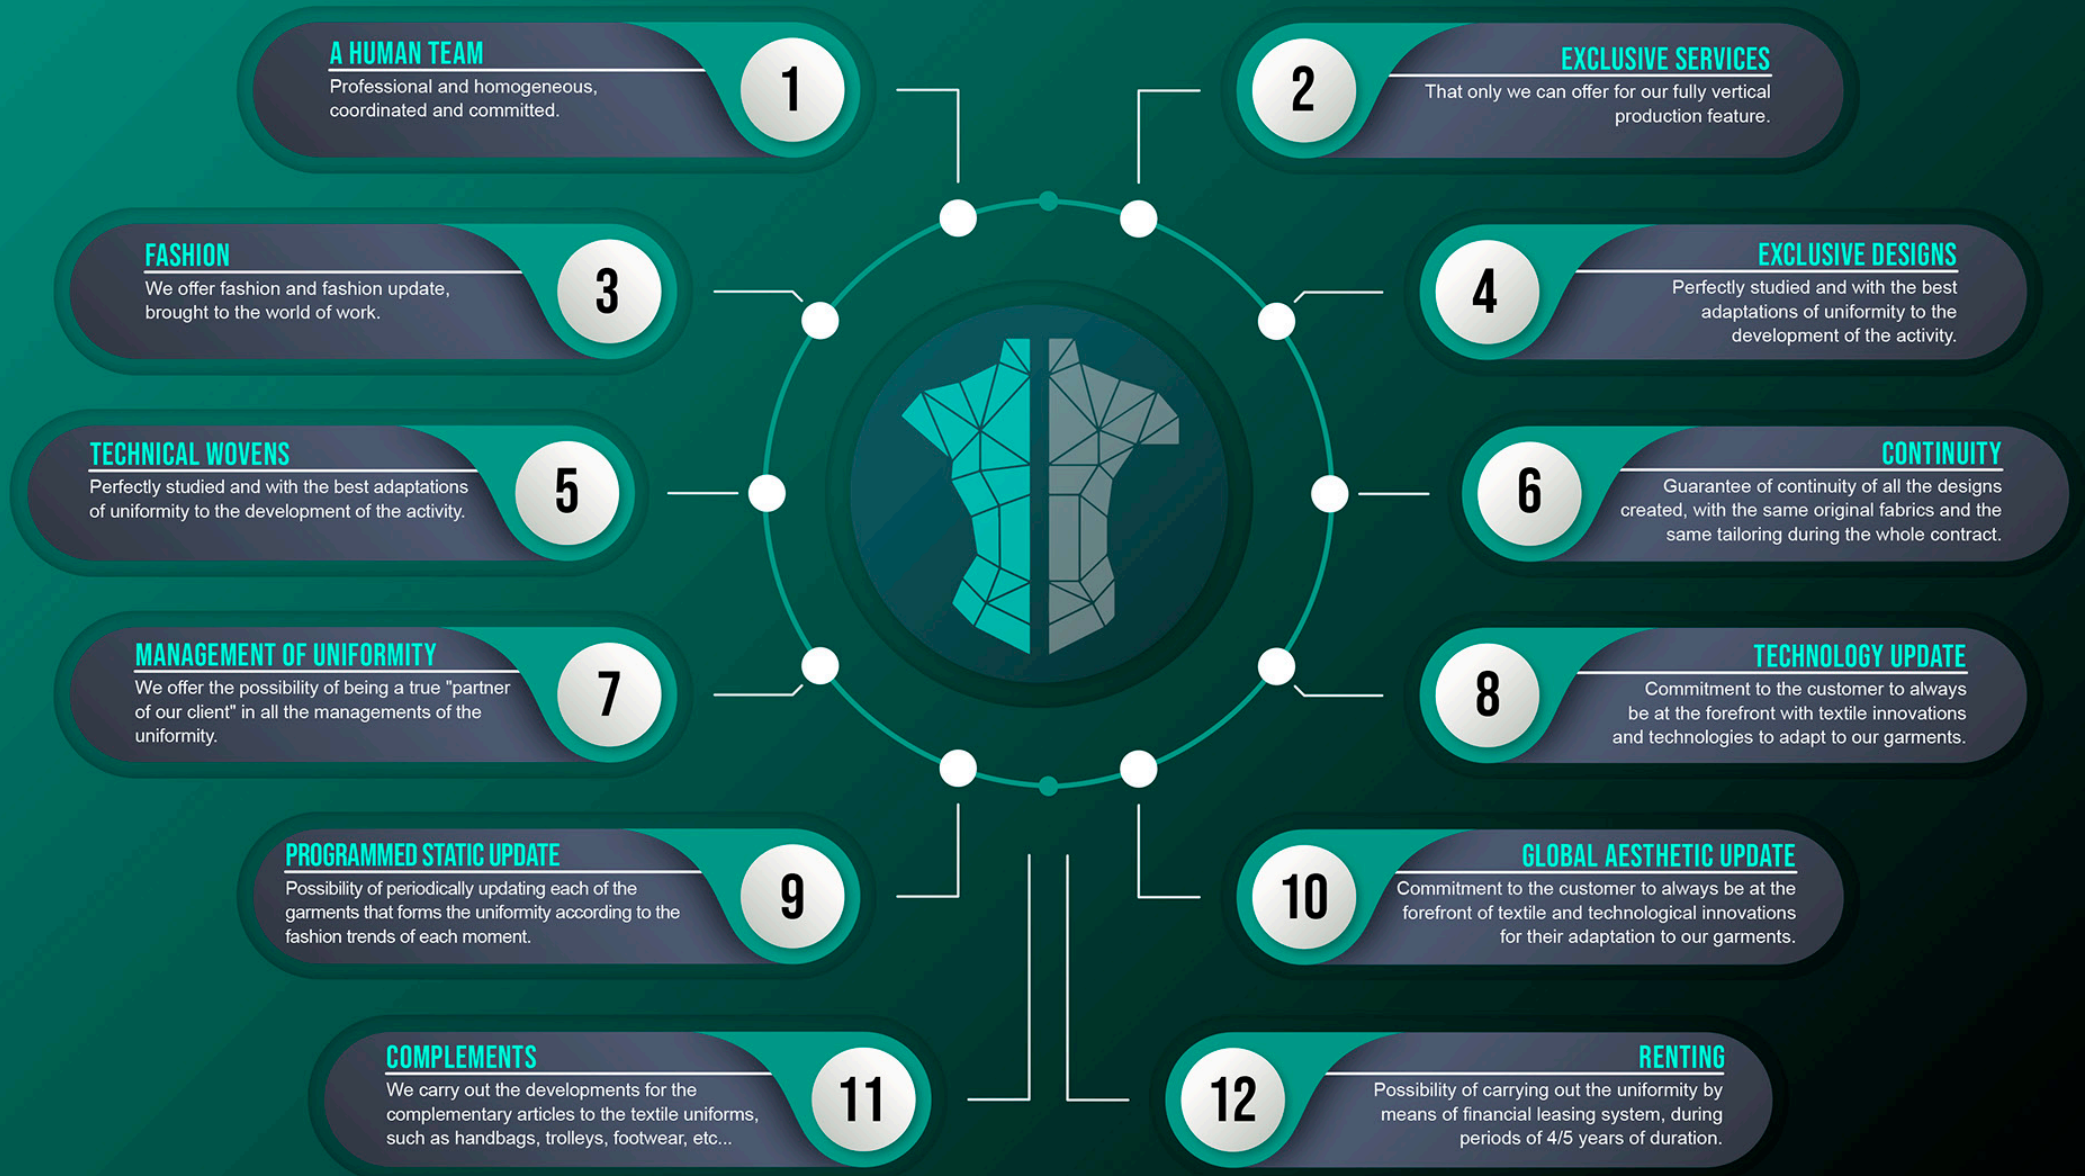

We want you to enjoy this world...
Welcome to our world.

WHAT WE OFFER TO OUR CUSTOMERS

ABOUT US

We are an international company. Our activity is focused on the development of the entire production in the framework of fashion and more specifically in the sector of haute couture uniforms.

The entire production development depends on our own facilities, with continuous internal controls in each of the processes.

We start from the custom design, we continue with the choice of fibers to create the yarns with compositions suitable for each sector, climate and work to develop.

From these yarns the best weaving structures are studied to create a fabric that is comfortable, elegant, durable and easy to maintain.

Then the whole process of tailoring is developed, with the importance that has any detail of it, being very demanding in the quality and image of our articles which, in short, is the image that we want our client to offer.

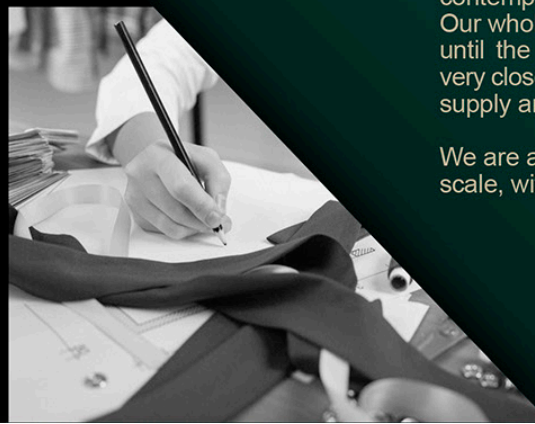

Our collections are exclusive and they reflect our desire for the good and different, our dedication and our experience. Collections appreciated by our customers and by the user himself, where the value of each garment, is reflected in the countenance of satisfaction of the person who wears it.

We get workwear to be based on fashion and comfort, which is a link to transmit direct messages to those who contemplate them.

Our whole process does not end here, as we take care of it until the end, that is, we manage uniformity, from places very close to our customers, developing a work of adaptation, supply and continuous control of uniformity.

We are an industrial tailoring, where we produce on a large scale, with the details of a conventional tailoring.
